

8 Questions Other Shutter Companies Hope You'll Never Ask Them

8 Questions you should ask so that your shutter shopping experience will be free of headaches, delivery delays and installation problems.

1 Are The Shutters Custom Made For Me?
Make sure your shutters are hand-crafted to your exact specifications, including color, finish and size or else they will not fit properly or match your décor. Danmer's genuine custom shutters are made from the ground up to fit your size and shape of window, and made to match your décor...no exceptions!

3 How Fast Can I Get My Shutters?
Danmer is the manufacturer, right here in California. This gives us the ability to have the fastest turnaround time in the industry. Many companies only assemble parts manufactured overseas, which can take weeks to arrive. Danmer shutters can be installed in as little as 3 days from your measuring appointment*.

2 Wood vs. Alternative Materials: How Do I Make The Right Choice?
There will always be homeowners who insist on wood shutters. But one alternative you should ask for is Thermalite™ Shutters. Unlike wood shutters, Thermalite will NEVER peel, crack, warp, burn, or discolor. They don't lose tension so they work perfectly for many years. And the water-based finish insures safety with no harmful toxic effects.

4 Are You Fully Licensed and Insured?
The Contractors State License Board regulates California contractors, while investigating over 20,000 complaints each year. Ask any shutter company about their installers: Will the person who installs your shutters be licensed, bonded, insured, factory trained and certified? Do they have a minimum 10 year track record installing shutters? Danmer's license is #574304 and we've NEVER had a complaint filed against our installers with the CSLB.

What's The Right Shutters For My Home Environment?

The Thermalite™ Shutter Insulating System was created to reduce energy consumption in your home, insulating your windows up to 3x better than wood shutters, keeping your house warmer in the winter and cooler in the summer. Thermalite is made of a non-toxic material that's flame retardant, water resistant, and produces very low VOCs.

7

Why Is Made in USA Important?

Danmer Shutters are manufactured and assembled right here in the USA. We believe that investing in your home is an investment in rebuilding America. Other companies will also claim that their products are made in the USA, but in reality many are only assembled in the USA from foreign manufactured parts. Danmer shutters are produced here in the USA using safe and reliable materials.

6

Why Is 24/7 Customer Service Important?

Make sure to ask if the shutter company provides customer service 7 days a week, 24 hours a day to address any questions that may arise. Also ask your shutter company if they provide their customers with online order status, so you can see your custom shutters from start to finish.

8

Why Is The Warranty Important?

Here's what to look for in the fine print: insist on a warranty that's actually transferable to the NEXT homeowner. A transferable warranty is desirable because it will likely increase the resale value of your home. Trust a company that will give you a copy of the warranty; that's the Danmer Difference.

Shutters have gone through a remarkable transformation in the last few decades, with product and service options that you ought to know about before you make a shutter decision. You shouldn't have to jump through hoops to get your shutter company to tell you about the full range of options available. You deserve straight answers in a timely manner so that you can make the best shutter choice for you and your family.
